Join us to explore the research on what employees want most in the public sector and how your staff can tackle the demands of this tough labor market. We'll discuss the priorities of current and prospective employees, how employee benefits fit within that context and how recruitment and retention efforts can fit within the context of broader organizational objectives. We will also highlight some readily available data points public sector employers have at their fingertips that can be leveraged to show value to current and prospective employees.

Parking

Public parking is available behind City Hall.

Overflow parking:

- Botanical Garden's lot behind City Hall
- In front of City Hall:
